Throwing a plate to defeat opponentGame Battle Disc was created to play sports quite interesting, not too complicated, but very addictive. Your task in this game is to control the character, use the plate and throw away the opponent's defense. Specifically, the screen will be divided vertically in half, you protect your defense system below, the player at the top with brick rows is a defense system. To win, you need to destroy that defense with the right step, and most importantly you need to stop the opponent's pitches if you do not want to fail. To attack, drag and drop the character on the screen, and then play the drive to throw it away. This principle requires accurate adjustment of the drop angle so that the flying saucer hits the opponent's tiles. The drive will keep bouncing until you touch your character or opponent if someone gets the drive will have the right to throw it. Therefore, you need to skillfully throw, so that the drive is not captured by the opponent. Until you destroy the opponent's defense system, you win, you complete that level and enter a new level. At each level you will face different opponents, be it 1 person, 2 or more people. The more people you have, the harder it is to throw things into your brick line. Not only patrons, but you also face obstacles to throwing a disc, so it is important to accurately throw the drive without getting a disc. The more you go to the next level, the harder you come across when faced with more people, and they throw drives very accurately. Can you beat them? MOD features Unblock All SkinsNo Ads.
